The new CIMCO lightness

Safe and convenient tool transport

The product developers at CIMCO have worked with experienced electronics engineers to design the ERGO-XL30 tool backpack, which enables tools to be transported easily and comfortably and, thanks to its well thought-out interior, keeps all tools organised for easy access.

Weighing just 2.8 kg, with strong back padding and individually adjustable shoulder and chest straps, it offers ergonomic carrying comfort and, with a load volume of 30 litres, is also incredibly spacious. It also has numerous inner compartments and holders. High-value tools and measuring instruments can be stored perfectly protected in four separate zip compartments.
The storage solutions include a separate tablet/laptop compartment, two side pockets, an external metal hook and a metal ring – which are ideal for transporting items that need to be accessed quickly.
Important for use on the construction site: even when fully loaded, the ERGO-XL30 is always stable thanks to its rigid, waterproof base shell.

And for those who do not yet have a standard tool kit, the pre-equipped ERGO-XL30 ELECTRIC version is a good choice.
